

of page 6. Generally speaking when we talk of eminent domain, I have always thought of eminent domain to include the city or village or whatever to acquire particular pieces of parcel which is in the public interest, something that is going to be developed by the public, something that is going to be utilized by the public, but on the top of page 6, it says that now the city is going to be able to do just about anything they want which is useful or necessary public improvement. Now to me that is giving the city a little bit too much power. In other words, what I am saying is if the city wants to condemn a particular piece of parcel and put up a Holiday Inn, they can just simply go in and tell that owner look, the owner of that particular piece of property, we want this piece of property. We think it is in the best interest of the public. Even though it is not going to be publicly owned, publicly operated, we think it to be in the best interest of the public, therefore, we want your property and you are going to have to move. I think we are giving the cities and the villages just a little bit too much power in those few words and that is the reason why I have asked this bill to be laid over for perhaps maybe more clarification from legal staff as to the exact amount of power that is now given.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Okay, the motion we are speaking to, the motion to lay over the bill and the Chair recognizes Senator George on that motion. Senator George.

SENATOR GEORGE: Mr. President, I most certainly object to that motion. I wish Senator Venditte would have been on the floor when we discussed that. We have discussed it in public hearing. We have discussed it in committee. We have discussed it in two different stages on the floor. That issue has been discussed from every angle and I can't help it that Senator Venditte is busy in Omaha and cannot appear on the floor for those discussions. This is the Final Reading. There is no time now to repeat all these same questions because one member didn't happen to be here on the floor until final debate and start debating that on final. I most certainly object to that kind of procedure and I am against Senator Venditte's motion.

SPEAKER MARVEL: Senator Wesely and then Senator Goodrich.

SENATOR WESELY: I will just call the question. I don't think there is any sense in....

SPEAKER MARVEL: The question has been called for. Do I
